when president habyarimana s jet was shot down in april 1994 rwanda erupted into a hundred day orgy of killing which left up to a million dead fergal keane travelled through the country as the genocide was continuing and his powerful analysis reveals the terrible truth behind the headlines a tender angry account as well as being a scathing indictment keane says the genocide inflicted on the tutsis was planned well in advance by hutu leaders this is a graphic view of news gathering in extremis it deserves to become a classic independent

a stunning work of investigative reporting by a canadian journalist who has risked her own life to bring us a deeply disturbing history of the rwandan genocide that takes the true measure of rwandan head of state paul kagame through unparalleled interviews with rpf defectors former soldiers and atrocity survivors supported by documents leaked from a un court judi rever brings us the complete history of the rwandan genocide considered by the international community to be the saviours who ended the hutu slaughter of innocent tutsis kagame and his rebel forces were also killing in quiet and in the dark as ruthlessly as the hutu genocidaire were killing in daylight the reason why the larger world community hasn't recognized this truth kagame and his top commanders effectively covered their tracks and post genocide rallied world guilt and played the heroes in order to attract funds to rebuild rwanda and to maintain and extend the tutsi sphere of influence in the region judi rever who has followed the story since 1997 has marshalled irrefutable evidence to show that kagame's own troops shot down the presidential plane on april 6 1994 the act that put the match to the genocidal flame and she proves without a shadow of doubt that as kagame and his forces slowly advanced on the capital of kigali they were ethnically cleansing the country of hutu men women and children in order that returning tutsi settlers displaced since the early 60s would have homes and land this book is heartbreaking chilling and necessary rwanda this small country located in the center of africa was filled with human blood in 1994 extremist rwandans killed about 1 million people in only one hundred days about 3 million fled rwanda into exile in democratic republic of congo ex zaire where they would be killed by the rwandan patriotic army from 1996 until 1998 this book is about a testimony of two boys who survived these massacres in which they had lost both their parents who were killed in the forests of the congo the older boy 7 years old at that time had to take care of his little brother a newborn whose mother was killed only a couple hours after his birth miraculously they both traveled the entire country of the congo and came back to rwanda once in their home country of rwanda in their own home village the neighbours who wanted to keep their inheritance accused them of committing genocide in 1994 but at the time of this heinous crime the older brother was only 5 years old and his little brother was not born yet to survive the attacks harassment and terror of these neighbours ancient refugees from uganda they became street kids where i met them on behalf of the wea mission commission william carey library is pleased to launch a landmark anthology and resource this is a new publication in the globalization of mission series sorrow blood christian mission in contexts of suffering persecution and martyrdom the editorial team of william taylor usa tonica van der meer brazil and reg reimer canada worked over four years to compile this unique resource anthology this book is the product of the mission commission's global missiology task force and a worldwide team of committed colleagues and writers some 62 writers from 23 nations have collaborated to generate this unique global resource and anthology ajith fernando of sri lanka and christopher wright of the uk each wrote prefaces to the book this latest wea volume has the potential of profoundly shaping our approach to mission in today's challenging and increasingly dangerous world the continuation of a groundbreaking study of the rwandan genocide and the story of the survivor generation in rwanda from april to june 1994 800 000 tutsis were slaughtered by their hutu neighbors in the largest and swiftest genocide since world war ii in his previous books jean hatzfeld has documented the lives of the killers and victims but after twenty years he has found that the enormity of understanding doesn't stop with one generation in blood papa hatzfeld returns to the hills and marshes of nyamata to ask what has become of the children those who never saw the machetes yet have grown up in the shadow of tragedy fabrice sandra jean pierre and others share the genocide as a common inheritance some have known only their parents silence and lies enduring the harassment of classmates or the stigma of a father jailed for unspeakable crimes others have enjoyed a loving home and the sympathies offered to survivor children but do so without parents or an extended family the young rwandans in blood see each other in the neighborhood they dance and gossip frequent the same cafés and like teenagers everywhere love sports music and fashion they surf the net and dream of marriage yet hutu and tutsi children rarely speak of the ghosts that haunt their lives here their moving first person accounts combined with hatzfeld's arresting chronicles of everyday life form a testament to survival in a country devastated by the terrible crimes and trauma of the past mushikiwabo is a rwandan working as a translator in washington when she learns that most of her family back home has been killed in a conspiracy meticulously planned by the state first comes shock then aftershock three months of it during which her worst fears are confirmed the same state apparatus has duped millions of rwandans into butchering nearly a million of their neighbors years earlier her brother lando wrote her a letter she never got until now urged on by it she rummages into their farm childhood and into family corners alternately dark loving and humorous she searches for stray mementos of the lost then for their roots what she finds is that and more hints roots of the 1994 crime that killed her family her narrative takes the reader on a journey from the days the world and rwanda discovered each other back to colonial period when pseudoscientific ideas about race put the nation on a highway bound for the 1994 genocide seven years of full time collaboration by two writers and the faith of family and friends went into this emotionally charged work rwanda means the universe is at once a celebration of the lives of the lost and homage to their past but it is no comfortable tribute it is an expression of dogged hope in the face of modern evil the 1994 rwandan genocide against the tutsi was the signature moral horror of the late 20th century andrew wallis reveals for the first time the personal lives and crimes of the family group akazu that destroyed their country and left one million dead wallis meticulous research uncovers a broad landscape of terror looking back to the forgotten rwandan genocide of the early 1960s and the failure by the international community to learn lessons of prevention and punishment a failure that would be repeated thirty years later taking the rise and fall of akazu personalities and their mafia like network as its central strand stepped in blood reveals how they were aided and abetted by western governments and the churches for decades and how post 1994 many successfully evaded international justice to enjoy comfortable retirements in the same countries that supported them when they were in power stepped in blood publishes in the year of the 25th commemoration of the rwandan genocide
